No matter what your position in the scouting program, Wood Badge is the next step. We all lead and need a common set of tools and skills to offer the best possible program to our youth. Why not make it easy on yourself and the job pleasant by learning the skills to do the job, work well with others, and not burn out?

Wood Badge teaches you all this and more – and we have fun!

Catch the Wood Badge Spirit!

You will learn the practical skills of listening, communicating, project planning, problem solving, decision making, inclusiveness, valuing and using diversity, conflict management, leading change and more, all with other scouts and in a very supportive and fun environment. Wood Badge teaches leadership skills while also helping kindle the magnificent thing we all call Wood Badge Spirit.

While you are learning these skills, you will develop a vision of what your successful leadership looks like. You then write 5 goals, (a to-do list), to be completed over the next 18 months. When you have completed your goals, you are honored in a Wood Badge Court of Honor and presented with the symbols of your course completion: the Troop One neckerchief, a leather woggle, your Wood Badge beads and certificate.
